

The Week Audit

You cannot reclaim a week you have never measured. For five working days, log what you actually do in thirty-minute blocks. Be specific: not “admin” but the real task. Then tag each block. By Friday the pattern is undeniable.

TAG EACH BLOCK

D Deep work (high value, needs focus) S Shallow work (necessary, low value)

C Coordination (meetings, email, Slack) X Needless (should not exist at all)

At the end of the week

- Total your X blocks. That is the work to Shed first.
- Total your C blocks. How much of your week is pure coordination?
- Circle the one task you dread most. It is often the best candidate to Shift to AI.
